EPK 3 Focus Questions and Learning Goals for Bread

Children will learn all about bread during this study: how to bake it, what our senses tell us about it, who makes it as part of their job, and more. Students will explore chemical reactions that happen during mixing and baking and see how yeast works as they make bread. They will create recipes and cook with bread and use the five senses to experience their finished products.

Study 4:	Jan. 20	What do we know about bread? What do we want to find out?
Bread		How is bread made?
	Jan. 27	What kinds of breads do we like?
	Feb. 3	Who works with bread?
	Feb. 10	How do we eat bread? When do we eat bread?
	Feb. 17	Can we create our own new recipe for bread?
		Celebrating Learning

Language and Literacy: Hearing Parts of Words
Words Within Compound Words	Developing Self-Portraits
Develop phonological awareness by becoming aware of the sounds of spoken language (e.g., begin to identify shorter words within compound words).	Begin to develop writing skills by recognizing that drawings, paintings, and writing are meaningful representations (e.g., make a picture of self with lines coming out of the bottom and sides of a circle).
Counting Syllables
Develop phonological awareness by becoming aware of the sounds of spoken language (e.g., begin to draw attention to parts of words such as syllables by moving or clapping).	Regular Past Tense Use more conventions of speech when speaking (e.g., use 'ed' for past tense).
Uppercase Letter Recognition	Contribute to Conversations
Name and identify some (at least 5) uppercase letters.	Have more meaningful conversations with peers and adults (e.g., offer own information in a group story or discussion
Rereading Familiar Stories	about a visit by the firefighters, talk to a friend or caregiver,
Begin to develop fluency by imitative reading (e.g., listen to models of fluent reading, ask to reread a favorite story,	an imaginary friend, or dolls and toys that he is playing with).
	Multile a Oran Name remembering funny ending and telling it as you start to read).

Writing Own Name

Write marks to represent own name.

Social Foundations: Play Group Games and Solve Prob	lems
 Taking Turns Can enjoy games like Red Light, Green Light that require waiting for signal to do something with adult support. Able to takes turns with preferred toys with prompting from an adult. Symbols Have Meaning 	 Problem Solving Can recognize when making a mistake and change approach with adult help. Asks adults to solve or "fix" a problem. Continues to become more flexible in problem-solving and thinking through alternatives (e.g., when trying to put on shoes, talks to self about what to do first. If the shoe won't

	Persistence
Role Playing Able to act out simple roles (i.e., "Look, I am a dog, ruff, ruff"). Can take on a character in pretend play and sustain this role consistently for approximately 5-10 minutes with adult modeling and support.	Maintains focus on one activity for longer periods of time as long as the activity is age-appropriate and of interest (e.g., can repeatedly solve and dump out a wooden puzzle, even with other children playing in the background). Persists with a wider variety of tasks, activities, and experiences with adult prompting.
Generating Ideas Generates ideas with teachers and peers with adult modeling and support.	Notes sense of accomplishment when finishing a planned activity (e.g., successfully drawing a figure). Continues to stack cups or complete a simple puzzle unsuccessfully without an emotional outburst with adult
Asking Complex Questions	support.
Continues to ask numerous questions, which are becoming more verbally complex (e.g., asks, "How do we get to Nana's house?").

Mathematics: Counting with One-to-One Correspondence and Cardinality
Quantity	Counting with One-to-One Correspondence
Show interest in quantity, measuring, and number relationships.	Counts two objects using one-to-one correspondence.
Identifies quantities of one, two, and more.	Counts five objects using one-to-one correspondence.
